From the Pastor. . .

As we express our Thanksgiving to the Lord this week, my hope is that the church will be a witness in their family gatherings. Since every family is different, being a witness will look different in different places. If your family does not stop to pray at the beginning of your meal, then you speak up and share that you would like for everyone to join hands and pray. If your family tends to have go down the trail of juicy gossip, then speak up and steer the conversation in a new direction. If your family doesn't go to church or hasn't been in a while, then invite them to church with you this Sunday. Finally, if you are listening to a family member who is struggling, then please share the difference that Jesus is making in your life as a believer. What I do know is that God wants to make a difference in our families, and He wants to use us to make that difference!

community.

Dear Sweet Church Family,

We would like to thank each of you for all of your prayers, visits, calls, texts, cards, food, and flowers during daddy's time of grief, illness and passing. We couldn't have done all of this without each and every one of you and our sweet Lord and Savior. Mama and daddy loved and respected our church and church family. Even until the very end daddy wanted to make sure we all were ready for heaven like he was and if not to get right with God. He loved missions and spreading God's love through his hands by working to help build and repair churches all over the world, his audio visual/television ministry and by living through example.

God is helping us get through this time of sorrow, but we are happy that our parents are healed and together again. We loved them soo....

Matther 25: " . . .well done, good and faithful servant. . ."
